

though personally they may have improved

Millerite delusions have occurred at two or three previous periods. Zealous believers in the figures that cannot lie, but did not cipher up the truth, despite all the ingenious Bible-peddling that Mr. Miller and his associates teaching and his wife, mother and his descendants, indulged in, have gone through periods of the same cruel stages of religious error as the community in Newark and its neighborhood, who are to be sadly disappointed on this particular Monday. The old story will be simply repeated. The deluded men in New Jersey, and others equally deluded, who may be scattered over the earth, will go back to their daily avocations to to-morrow morning, with feeling sad, no doubt, but yet by no means Adventism are very odd, but promises to lose some features of their singularity by frequent repetition. The fact is that this old Globe is by no means ready to give up the ghost just yet. It has a great deal handsome work cut out, contains a very considerable number of relics of physical and mental viciousness.

Post-Office Theft. 11

The Lead states, evidently on the basis of mental authority, that the robbery of Canadian lottery is practised in an inoffensive or gent in the United States' post-offices.
our contemporary has correctly informed every registered money lotterant in the Western States is opened and looted; the fact of registration is indicated, the presence of valuable contents; and thus carrying off a fact this very end in view. Little counting money and not registered, admit to be red, not by any means safe when addressed to any part of the neighboring country. despatched Westward, it almost amounts to certainly that they will be opened after they had crossed the frontier, and money taken out. It is added that this system of their carried on by 'the higher class of thieves'—

'the heads of certain post-offices' are pointed out, though not named as the culprits.

The Chicago Times of Thursday has an article which may help to elucidate the matter. It avers that Chicago post-office "an acknowledged den of thieves;" and "people of Chicago," are compelled silently to submit to a wholesale pilfering and robbery of their correspondence!" and "mournful envelopes and black seals" are not protected.

"since a recent exposure, no clerk is stupid enough to return letters which he may have opened, but destroys them." The Times proceeds to state that a delivery clerk, having "ascertained that a regular practice of opening letters formed part of the system of the office," reported the fact to the head the office, and for so doing was instantly dismissed, and the party who had been detected in violation of law was retained." Another instance yet more scandalous is mentioned by our contemporary declaring that although bankers, merchants, and others have merchandized the Postmaster-General, no effect

A solemn and impressive event occurred recently in the Baptist church, near Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. After the sermon, John H. Hargreaves addressed the congregation, clothed with the admonition: "Be ye also ready, in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man will come."

Statistics show that nearly 700,000 bushels of oysters have been opened in Narragansett Bay, within the past six months, and sent to various parts of the country; it is estimated that a bushel will open 100 quarts of oysters, thus making an aggregate

A large number of teams heading to Pike's Park are stuck in the mud in lots. Many of them do not make a headway of six miles per day, and the average distance a day is not over ten miles! What a prospect with a journey of upwards of a thousand miles ahead of them!

A MAN'S HEAD CUT OFF BY A CIRCULAR SAW.—On Thursday morning, a young man named James Finnegan, employed at Oliver's Steam Planing and Saw Mills, was engaged at work, and while in the act of moving a log to the proper place for sawing, he slipped, and fell on the circular saw, and was killed instantly—the saw severing the greater portion of the head from the body, and mangleing it so shockingly as to prevent one of the most horrible sights we have seen. Finnegan was only seventeen years of age, and had been in the employment of

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—A Miller, near David's Mill, in Ingersoll, named Caspary, or McKeuchan made a desperate attempt on Tuesday night, to take his life. It appears that between eleven and twelve o'clock on that evening, he went in a state of intoxication and told his wife, had retired to bed, that he intended to do for himself. This threat had been made so frequently, that the wife paid little attention to it. Shortly afterwards, however, he lay down a loaded gun from its resting place, placed the muzzle under his chin, and when wife leaped from bed, and endeavoured to wrest the gun from his grasp—the husband, at the same moment, pulled the trigger—grater portion of the charge entering below the jaw bone, mangle the cheek in most shocking manner. The wife also received a portion of the charge in her back. McConachy is 36 years of age, and is addicted to drinking. His recovery is considered doubtful.—Ingersoll Chronicle.

Crime.—More murders have been committed during the past year, than in any previous year.

ten years in the history of America—at least we believe. Almost every daily brings the Account of some "horrible deed" having been committed. Husbands murdering wives and wives inflicting on their husbands. Who can tell us why it is? Does the "hard times" make us more or less cruel? Does the fact that a large proportion of criminals escape justice have anything to do with it?

60,000. During the year 1900, over 60,000 men, in New York, only one man took place, and that a boy!—How is it possible to do with the "economic crime" in that city? We think it is just to criminal, is being merciful to public.

Suppose that the subject of Capital Punishment be debated here; it would not be of interest.
